

Center for Organization Studies

C O R S

BENJAMIN CORIAT

Benjamin CORIAT is Professor of Economics at the University Paris 13, in the faculty of Economics and Management, of Industrial and International Economics, Finance and Business, Organization Theory, Pharmaceutical Patents and Human Resource Management.

He holds a doctorate in economics from the University of Paris X, Nanterre. Currently he participates in research on medical economics and public health policies at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of France. He is a member of the reflection group "Refonder l'agenda de Lisbonne". He has extensively published on the issue of IPRs and IPR and Health. Book "The political economy of HIV/AIDS in developing countries. TRIPS, Public Health Systems and Free Access", Edward Elgar, 2008.

He is now leading a large three years research project entitled "IPRs, Exclusive Rights and the Commons – New Frontiers on Shared Access and Commons Based Production" ending in 2012. Sponsored the French ANR (National Agency for Research) this multidisciplinary project gathers fifteen research teams engaged in the study of commons in many different domains."